Sword Gauge

The Sword Gauge (→Page7) under the life meter displays the attack force of the character. The Sword Gauge drops when a player performs a Slash Attack, but subsequently rises (recovers) over time. The higher the Sword Gauge, the greater the attack force. Attack force is significantly increased with the gauge at MAX. During an enraged state, the attack force rises to its maximum value as the length of the Sword Gauge increases.

Rage Gauge

The Rage Gauge (→Page7) at the bottom of the screen shows the level of a character's rage. This gauge increases each time the character is hit. When the gauge reaches MAX, the attack force rises to its maximum value and the length of the Sword Gauge increases, letting you use a "Knocking On The Sword Super Attack".

Rage Explosion

You can activate a Rage Explosion anytime during a battle by pressing the A, B, C buttons simultaneously, and even when hit by opponent attacks. You can also use this as an Emergency Recovery because it renders players temporarily invincible. The Rage Gauge changes into a dedicated gauge to show the elapsed time of an activated Rage Explosion. The Rage Explosion ends when the gauge empties. "Knocking On The Sword Super Attack" can be used during a Rage Explosion. However, once you use the Rage Explosion, because the Rage Gauge itself is subsequently exhausted and cannot be used again during a match.

simultaneously

[Effects of a Rage Explosion]

- You can activate it even when you are hit.
- After activation, players become invincible.
- Time stops for your opponent during activation.
- The maximum value of the Sword Gauge rises to the MAX state.
- Players can use "Knocking On The Sword Super Attack".
- When certain conditions are met, players can use the Over Kill move (→Page15).

[Conditions that End the Rage Explosion]

- The time limit runs out.
- A "Knocking On The Sword Super Attack" against an opponent is used.
- When an Over Kill Move is used (right or wrong).

Knocking On The Sword Super Attack

Players can use a "Knocking On The Sword Super Attack" when the Rage Gauge reaches MAX and the character enters a Rage Explosion. It is a highly powerful technique for disarming opponents of their weapons, and the command for all characters is the same: push ↓↘→ + C & D simultaneously.

"Concentration One Gauge" & "Meditation"

The CONCENTRATION ONE gauge is the [▽] mark (→Page7) between the combatants life gauges, displaying the spirit power of the character. Press down on the D button when Rage is accumulated to enter "Meditation." As the Rage Gauge decreases, the CONCENTRATION ONE gauge increases, causing an equivalent amount of the life gauge to turn red. The time for CONCENTRATION ONE will then extend in proportion to the length of the CONCENTRATION ONE gauge. Meditation is not possible, however, if the Rage Gauge is at MAX or at 0.

The [▽] mark represents the CONCENTRATION ONE gauge.

When the Rage Gauge is full.

During Meditation!

The CONCENTRATION ONE Gauge increases (Only that amount appears red.)

The Rage Gauge decreases.

Concentration One

The command to activate CONCENTRATION ONE is executed by pushing B, C & D buttons simultaneously when the life gauge turns blue (when the amount of CONCENTRATION ONE gauge exceeds the amount of remaining physical power). While activated, the opponent moves in slow motion, enabling you alone to move at normal speed.

The gauge displaying the remaining time of CONCENTRATION ONE is shown at the bottom of the screen once it's activated, and this time increases as the length of CONCENTRATION ONE increases. In CONCENTRATION ONE, you can also use the powerful "Fatal Flash" attack by pushing B, C, D buttons simultaneously.

[Activation Conditions]

The life gauge will turn blue when the three following conditions are met.

- It's a round that will end the game if you lose.
- The CONCENTRATION ONE gauge exceeds your remaining life energy.
- A Rage Explosion has not yet been used (There Rage Gauge still appears on the screen).

simultaneously

[Effects of a Concentration One]

- Opponent actions are slowed down.
- Time moves slower.
- A Fatal Flash move can be used.
- The Rage Gauge is used up.

[Conditions that End the Concentration One]

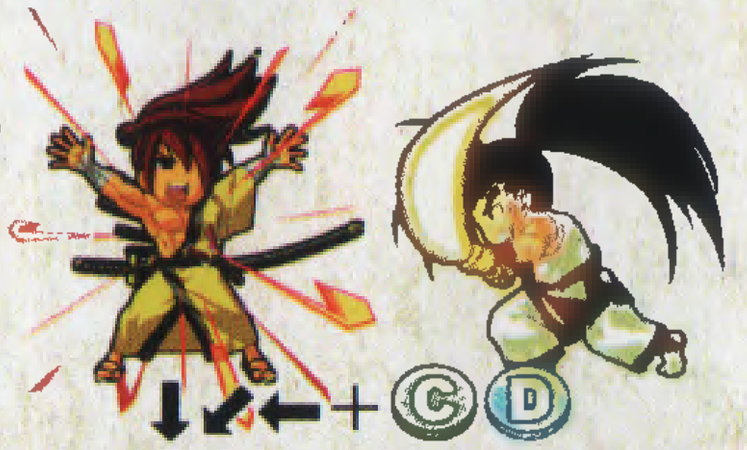

- The time for the CONCENTRATION ONE runs out.
- You are hit by an opponent.
- You use a Fatal Flash regardless whether it succeeds or not.

Over Kill Move

Over Kill Move is an ultimate secret that can slay an opponent with one blow regardless of his/her remaining life energy, and can only be used once during a match. The command for this is the same for all characters, releasing the attack with ↓↙← + CD buttons pushed simultaneously.

[Conditions for activating over kill moves]

- When the opponent is able to activate the CONCENTRATION ONE move (possible when activated or after it's activated.
- When you are in a rage explosion.
